

Final exam questions for Geography Master of Science (MSc) students

"A"

- 1. Globalisation and sustainable development in geography.
- 2. The main characteristics and types of systems, the relationship between conceptual and material systems.
- 3. Methods in system representations, practical application of system models.
- 4. Presentation of geoinformatics system used in environmental and regional development research.
- 5. Structure, properties and applicability of raster and vector databases in landscape and spatial development research.
- 6. Anthropogenic geomorphological system, and its main forms based on human activities.
- 7. Core-periphery and regional inequalities from global scale to local level.
- 8. Theories of global value chains and global production networks, and their role in explaining socio-economic inequalities.
- 9. Geographical aspects of environmental planning studies.
- 10. Traditional and novel social expectations related to landscapes.
- 11. Description of factors determining the global climate. A comprehensive analysis of the natural functioning of the climate system and of the modifying anthropogenic impacts.
- 12. The role of landscape analysis in environmental impact assessment and municipal environmental protection programmes.
- 13. The role of ethnicities and religions in political geography, the "clash" of civilisations.
- 14. Political geographical features of the globalisation of world economy.
- 15. Expected impact of climate change on the functioning and appearance of landscapes.